

FREE LUNCH WEBINAR SERIES: FARMLAND LEASING

Farmland owners and anyone with an agricultural lease are invited to participate in a free “lunch and learn” mini webinar series starting in March. This series of short courses will teach you the basics of farmland leases and will provide you with useful tools and resources to construct farmland leases.

Webinars will be held weekly on Thursday from March 18 to April 1 at noon Central/1 pm Eastern. Each session lasts about 30 minutes. Topics and speakers are listed for the three sessions.

Information about the webinar series is available on the UTIA Agricultural and Resource Economics MANAGE Program’s website at

<https://arec.tennessee.edu/extension/manage/>

Links to participate in the webinars will be emailed to registered participants prior to each session. Participants will be asked to complete an evaluation form for each session they attend and a follow-up evaluation for the series. The follow-up evaluation will ask how they have implemented the information learned.

March 18, 2021

Types and Terms of Farmland Leasing

March 25, 2021

How to Figure out a Fair Rental Rate?

April 1, 2021

Legal Considerations

SPEAKERS

Chris Clark, University of Tennessee Institute of Agriculture

Iris Cui, University of Tennessee Extension

REGISTER

Register online to receive session links at <https://farmlandleasing.questionpro.com>

Contact Iris Cui with questions at xcui10@utk.edu or 931.648.5725.

